Please join us as we carry on Meadowlark Lemon's Legacy — Bringing Help, Hope, Inspiration and Joy to Children, One Assist at a Time!

THE Meadowlark Lemon Legacy Foundation is honoring Meadowlark by carrying forward and building upon Meadowlark's Legacy and Vision. The Foundation will build/refurbish Meadowlark Lemon Legacy Courts nationwide, giving children and families a place to connect, dream and have fun!

Through "Camp Meadowlark" Basketball Camps, established by Meadowlark in 1989, children will have an opportunity to be coached by admired NBA, Globetrotter and Celebrity Basketball Players, learning what a unique gift they are to this world, and how to develop their gifts and good character, both on and off the court like Meadowlark did…always believing that All Things Are Possible!

Meadowlark would love knowing his friends and fans are joining together to honor him by fulfilling one of his Big Dreams…

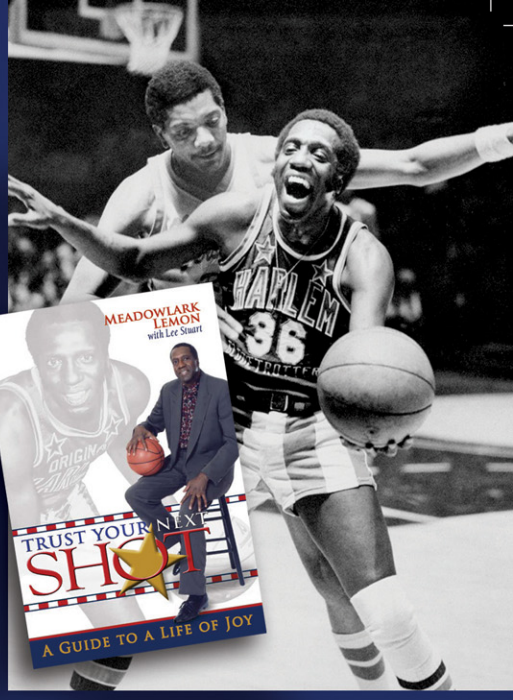
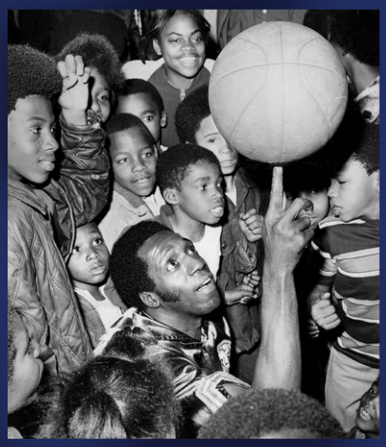
Meadowlark bringing joy to his many fans

In Trust Your Next Shot, Meadowlark reveals his path from survivor to superstar



A newsreel of the Harlem Globetrotters captured Meadowlark Lemon's heart when he was 11 years old, giving him a dream to play for the team. Though he had no money for a basketball, he was determined. His first hoop was made out of a coat hanger and an onion sack nailed to a tree in Wilmington, N.C. His ball was a Carnation Milk can. It was a humble beginning for a legendary career that would change the face of basketball forever.



He firmly believed that God planted this dream in his heart and gave him the relentless desire, determination, energy and talent to pursue it.

Meadowlark's dream would come true and he would join the Globetrotters and travel the world, playing in 16,000 career games in more than 100 countries, performing before Kings, Queens, Presidents, Popes, Dignitaries, Celebrities and Fans of all ages, bringing them Hope, Inspiration and Joy.

Meadowlark was dedicated to delivering a message of hope, inspiring and encouraging others to make the most of their God-given gifts, pursue their dreams, the importance of vision, determination, perseverance, kindness, respect, responsibility, teamwork and other important philosophies which worked for him that would guide them in their journey…always encouraging them to stay focused and "finish strong" in every endeavor.

Your generous donations will keep Meadowlark's dreams alive giving children hope…and paving the way for future champions!

Together, let's make a difference.

"To my fans across the globe, thank you for the memories, I cherish them as much as you do! I wish you all joy, my friends. Always remember life's most meaningless statistic is the halftime score, and as far as I'm concerned it's always halftime. In the great game of life..."
